

Son succeeds father as president

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — After 25 years as founder and president of The Star Supply Co., a heating and air conditioning wholesaler, Seymour Cohen has turned over the presidency to his son, Larry.

Seymour Cohen will remain active with the company and retain his position of chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

After graduating from Bryant College, Springfield, R.I., Larry Cohen joined the company on a full-time basis. His most recent position was executive vice president. He is active in the North-american Heating and Airconditioning Wholesalers Association and is a member of the board of trustees.

Star Supply recently added 35,000 sq ft to its facility and is fully computerized to better manage its 14,000-item inventory.

Trying to find the Right Person?

CHECK THE NEWS
CLASSIFIED ADS